John Moman Files for Round Rock City Council, Place 5

Round Rock, TX—February 9, 2009—John Moman, Principal/Founder of Round Rock-based Moman Architects, filed today for Round Rock City Council, Place 5. As an active member of the community, Moman has brought significant milestones to the Round Rock landscape. During his tenure as Chairman of the Round Rock Chamber of Commerce, he spearheaded the effort to bring the minor league baseball team the Express to Round Rock. Additionally, he donated architectural design services to the Williamson County Children’s Advocacy Center. As a local business owner with fourteen employees, Moman states, “I know first hand the incredible importance of delivering timely results and being held accountable for everything from payroll to design. I will bring that same leadership and responsibility to the Council and community.”

Key Directives for Round Rock City Council, Place 5,

- Represent the interest of citizens and local businesses
- Diversify the current city council with 30 years of regional development experience
- Utilize strong economic development & environmental protection standards
- Promote “Green” efforts in our community
- Improve higher education opportunities for all citizens
- Listen and learn from citizens to solve challenges together
- Encourage safer transportation mobility

Calling Round Rock home for over 24 years, Moman knows civic pride and public collaboration create a safe, vibrant community in which to live and work. “My experience, passion and love for our city are the reasons I seek office,” says Moman.

April 9, 2009 is the last day to register to vote in the May 9th election. Visit www.johnmoman.com for additional details.
